

ALICIA KOPLOWITZ FOUNDATION

2022 CALL FOR RESEARCH PROJECT GRANTS

TERMS AND CONDITIONS - 2022 CALL

FIRST.- Objective

To promote the development of knowledge around Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, Psychology and Neurosciences or Neuropaediatrics in Spain through support for original research projects.

The Alicia Koplowitz Foundation is promoting 8 research grants for projects to be developed within a maximum period of two years.

SECOND.- Recipients

The grants are aimed at research teams who develop their projects in a Spanish hospital, university or research centre. There will be a single Spanish principal investigator in all cases, linked to one of these organisations throughout the two-year project duration and who will be the sole recipient of the grant. The principal investigator cannot be doing their medical residency MIR or PIR.

No researcher (either principal investigator or other research team member) may be involved in more than one application in this call. Researchers who already have a research grant from the Alicia Koplowitz Foundation are not eligible to participate in this call. Principal investigators and other research team members awarded grants in previous years are not entitled to apply for a new grant until at least two years after the end of their last research project funded by the Alicia Koplowitz Foundation.

THIRD.- Application Form

To apply for a grant, applicants must submit the duly completed application form for this call, available over the Foundation's website (www.fundacionaliciakoplowitz.org). This form must include:

- Curriculum Vitae of the principal investigator and three notable team members for the past five years; maximum length 5 pages and according to the following scheme:

- Personal, professional and academic information.
- Papers at congresses.
- Indexed publications with a JCR impact factor.
- Research projects funded by public or private organisations, citing dates, title, financial backer and allocated amount.
- Patents.

- Clinical guidelines.
 - Supervised doctoral theses.
- Scientific explanatory report on the research project intended to be conducted; maximum five pages. An original and concise presentation will be a plus.
 - Collaboration agreement of other involved departments or centres, duly completed and signed.
 - Economic report including a detailed budget: personnel expenses –up to a maximum of 40% of the total grant, excluding indirect costs-, inventoriable costs with attached proforma invoice, consumables, publication and outreach costs, congress registration expenses, travel and daily subsistence allowance for congress attendance. Budgets or proforma invoices for Research Support Services (RSS). These should also be included when their use is considered, enclosing a price list (costs of animal purchase and maintenance, sequencing platforms, microscopy, proteomics, metabolomics, etc.). No expenses arising from third-party or RSS project engagement can be allocated to the “Other expenses” heading. Costs generated by any project participant not part of the research team will ALWAYS be allocated to the “Personnel expenses” heading. Personnel expenses may never refer to remuneration for the principal investigator or any other member of the research team with contractual relations with sites where the project is to be developed. Expenses needed for project performance and results outreach (congresses, meetings, symposia, etc.) will refer only to those generated by research team members listed in the application form and provided they refer to the project funded by the Foundation.
Total cost estimates must include a section on indirect costs incurred by the site where the research work will be done.
 - Report from the Research Committee, Clinical Research Ethics Committee and Animal Research Ethics Committee of the site where the project will be developed, if the study type so requires.
 - Sample informed consent form for participants and/or parents or legal guardians.

FOURTH.- Provision and Duration

The ALICIA KOPLOWITZ FOUNDATION is a private nonprofit with address at Paseo de Eduardo Dato, nº 18, 28010 Madrid and identification code G-83837286, entered in the Ministry of Education, Culture and Sport's Foundations Register under number 910 by a ministerial order of 19 January 2004. It is governed by Law 50/2002 of 26 December 2002 on Foundations and Law 49/2002 of 23 December 2002 on the Tax Regime of Non-profit Organisations and Tax Incentives for Patronage.

Awarded grants will be provided to beneficiary entities in the form of an irrevocable donation after signing a certificate expressly stating their nature as such in accordance with Law 49/2002.

Grant duration will be two years from date of acceptance and execution by means of the relevant certificate.

- The maximum financial provision for each grant is up to a maximum of €50,000. The Foundation may decide the budget allocation for each project and its breakdown. If the funding amount finally granted for project development is less than the amount requested, the principal investigator must pivot the economic report to that amount, which will cover any expenses arising from project performance.

Amounts will be distributed as follows:

- 30% when the Foundation receives the acceptance certificate from the beneficiary entity.
- 30% at eight months after project start, once the first research progress report, comprising a scientific and an economic report, has been submitted and favourably evaluated.
- 30% at 16 months after project start, once the second research progress report, comprising a scientific and an economic report, has been submitted and favourably evaluated.
- 10% at the end of the 24 months dedicated to the development of the project, once the final scientific and economic reports have been submitted and favourably evaluated, which shall include the Economic Certificate of the Receiving Center justifying the grant. This will be within three months after complete project end.

FIFTH.- Economic and Scientific Reports

All economic reports will include an economic certificate from the beneficiary entity justifying the grant, as well as a detailed list of expenses and copy of supporting documents, including employment contracts for personnel. Expenses needed for project performance and results outreach will refer only to those generated by research team members listed in the application form and provided they refer to the project funded by the Foundation.

All scientific reports must comply with the forms available on the Alicia Koplowitz Foundation website (www.fundacionaliciakoplowitz.org).

For clinical studies, researchers must submit a recruitment plan in the initial project, including where, how, who and how many subjects are expected to be recruited, as well as the study time expected for recruitment (no longer than the first 16 months). If the researchers have not succeeded in recruiting subjects by 16 months after study start, the Foundation will be authorised to terminate the grant.

In the case of a clinical trial, authorisation from the Clinical Trial Ethics Committee of the site where it will be conducted must be provided, as well as a formal commitment to obtain authorisation from the health authorities. This authorisation will be essential for project evaluation.

The principal investigator undertakes to conduct the research work in accordance with the project's scientific and economic reports and under the present terms and conditions and may not make changes to concepts or budget lines, study lines or research team members approved in the original project. If any change is considered necessary, it must be previously signed off on by the Alicia Koplowitz Foundation.

Recipients must expressly mention the Alicia Koplowitz Foundation as the financial backer in any articles they publish, papers they present at congresses and other scientific or teaching results. The principal investigator must send the Foundation a copy of the work or paper.

Projects funded under this call may not be funded by other sources, public or private, at the same time.

SIXTH.- Evaluation Committees

The Foundation will implement a preselection process to determine the suitability of applications submitted to the call terms and conditions. Those lacking the required documentation, not complying with the terms and conditions or not meeting the required scientific level will be declared ineligible to participate in the call.

The Alicia Koplowitz Foundation will appoint an evaluation committee comprising specialists of recognised standing in child and adolescent psychiatry and neuroscience or in neuropaediatrics to assess the background of the intended research, the objectives, methodology, development, innovation and quality of the project, the group's research experience and project feasibility, and budget breakdown for shortlisted projects, after which it will issue a final decision.

This decision is binding, confidential and final. It will be published on the Alicia Koplowitz Foundation website as the only means of information and correspondence in its regard will not be accepted.

SEVENTH.- Deadline and Method to Submit Applications

Applications are to be submitted according the form that can be downloaded from the website www.fundacionaliciakoplowitz.org. They must be sent before 26 April 2022 (inclusive) in the following two formats:

1.- One bound copy of the application form on paper, by postal mail or hand-delivered, addressed to:

Alicia Koplowitz Foundation
Att: Ms Mónica García
Paseo de Eduardo Dato nº 18
28010 Madrid

2.- A PDF DOCUMENT with the complete application form identifying the applicant by their full name must also be sent to the following email address: mgarcia@fundacionaliciakoplowitz.org

Applications that fail to comply with the above rules will be excluded from the preselection process.

EIGHTH.- Acceptance of Terms and Conditions

Participants in this call expressly accept the abovementioned terms and conditions, as well as those established by the Alicia Koplowitz Foundation for monitoring research project development in each case. In the event of breach, the Foundation will terminate the grant and may request the return of amounts received.

NINTH.- Absence of Contractual Relationship

The awarding and take-up of a grant does not constitute any contractual, employment or statutory relationship with the Alicia Koplowitz Foundation or any of the organisations where the research will be conducted.

TENTH.- Data Protection

The personal data collected in the application will form part of a file held by the Alicia Koplowitz Foundation and will be subject to the protection established by Organic Law 3/2018 of 5 December 2018 on Personal Data Protection and Digital Rights Guarantee and by Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation). Submission of an application involves data processing and transfers for the purposes of evaluation, monitoring and control by the evaluating body.
